

Kern County Information Technology Student Internship

General Description:

The ITS Internship Program aims to bridge the gap for individuals aspiring to enter the IT field but lacking the necessary experience and qualifications typically required for entry-level positions. This program provides a pathway into the County's ITS department, offering opportunities for professional growth and development. This internship program is open to individuals with an interest in IT, including current students or recent graduates from local colleges.

Experience:

No previous experience is necessary. Candidates must be receptive to on-the-job training and be willing to learn the basic principles of public administration. Prior coursework in Public Administration or related field and/or experience with a public sector agency is recommended.

How to Apply:

Please visit <https://www.kerncounty.com/how-do-i/development/internship-opportunities> for more information on current internship openings, the application process and how to apply.

More Information:

Each County department and internship site will determine work schedule, more specific duties related to the position, and if the internship is paid or unpaid. You will have an opportunity to discuss this information and more during the interview process.
